

Printing Search Results from OvidSP Databases

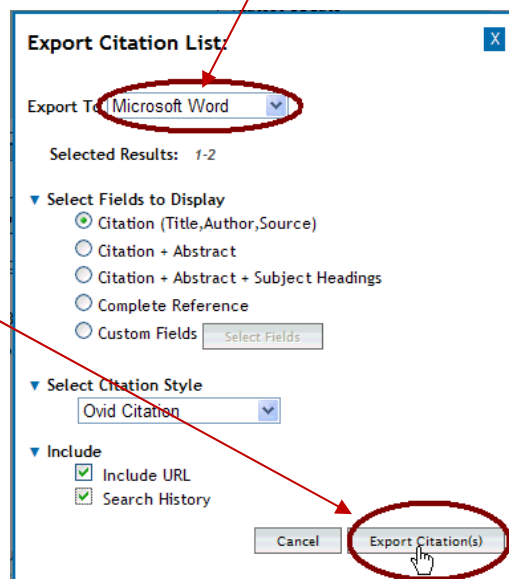

October 20, 2010

If you use the Print function in OvidSP interface, the font size in the printout is very small. To view the printed search results in normal size, you may follow the steps below to print them in Word:

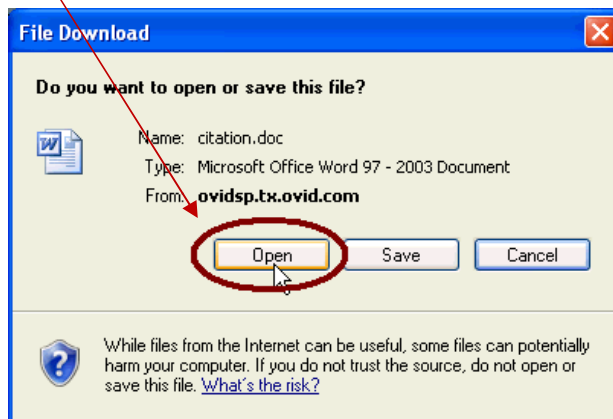

- Conduct a search in a database under OvidSP.
- Select the desired references and click Export at the top of the search results.

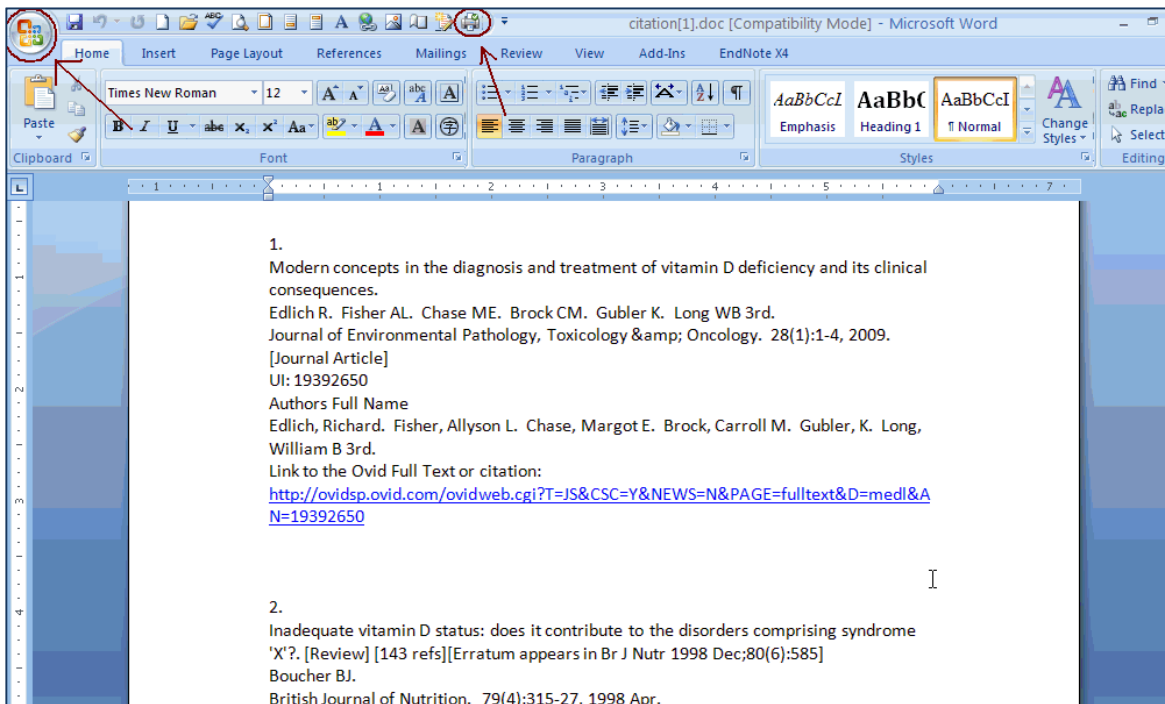

- In the Export Citation List popup window, choose Export to Microsoft Word in the pulldown menu and click on the other appropriate radio buttons.
- Then click on the Export Citation(s) button.

- Click Open to display the references in Word.

- You may now use the Word print function to print the search results in Word.
